LESSON PLAN

MEXICAN-AMERICAN HERITAGE: TEXAS EXPERIENCES
Social Studies, Grade 4

OBJECTIVE
Through the use of primary and secondary source audiovisual materials, students will examine and trace the history and experiences of Mexican-Americans in the Southwest and Texas from the sixteenth to twentieth century. Students will understand how the Mexican-American experience ties to indigenous and Spanish culture by examining the impact of European colonization and settlement on native people in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries. Other key moments include nineteenth century clashes on the open range with Anglo settlers, Southwest farming and ranching practices, and twentieth century migrant labor. Mexican-American activism, also referred to as “Chicanoism,” in the 1960s and 1970s is highlighted and the lesson includes commentary by famed civil rights activist Cesar Chavez from 1971.

PROCESS

Prior Knowledge
Students should have prior knowledge of the following areas to successfully take part in this activity:

- Students should be aware of the geography of the American Southwest and its indigenous people.
- Students should have prior knowledge of nomadic and settled native groups in the American Southwest.
- Students should be aware of European exploration in Texas, which began with the Spanish conquistadores and missionaries’ arrival in 1519.
- Students should have a working knowledge of 19th century frontier experience and the clashes that occurred on the open range.
- Students should have some background knowledge of the basic farming and ranching practices of the Southwest.
- Students should be aware of diverse cultures and the 20th century historic movements such as the civil rights and Chicano/Tejano movements of the 1960s – 1970s.
Hook – Texas History Timeline

Have students work in pairs to put key events in chronological order.

Give groups a piece of paper, have them draw a line down the middle of it for a timeline, and post the following key events on the board (exclude the dates). Students should work together and put the key events in order on their timelines.

Draw a line on the board and have students volunteer their answers for the class timeline. Put the events in the correct order including dates. Students will see how many they correctly listed and add key dates to their timelines.

Key Events:

Write on the Board:                             Reveal Later:
Spanish build the mission of Corpus Christi de la Ysleta (El Paso) (1682)
The Civil Rights Act is signed by President Lyndon B. Johnson (1960)
Columbus makes first voyage to the Americas (1492)
The first people arrive in Texas (11,000 BC)
Cabeza de Vaca explores the Gulf Coast of Texas (1528)
Mexico gains independence from Spain (1821)
Approximately 100,000 Anglo immigrants arrive in Texas (1873)
Texas wins Independence from Mexico (1836)

Have students answer the questions on the provided worksheet (see Worksheets). Pause occasionally to clarify and provide time for students’ reflective writing.

Independent Practice (Group or Individual Presentation)

Assign students (individual or group) a Texas civil rights film (see Videos) to analyze and highlight its main ideas, then present to the class. Have students first describe the genre of film (consult’s TAMI’s Guide to Moving Image Genres, https://texasarchive.org/guide-to-moving-image, the main issues presented in the video, and important historical events occurring during that time.

When presenting, have student select and play 3 short scenes from the video that they feel best highlight the main ideas. Tell the presenter(s) to be prepared to answer questions about the film from the class or you after their presentation. Give students ample time to research, select appropriate scenes, and rehearse together (with everyone speaking) in or outside of class. Remind students to utilize the educational features such as the “About”, “Texas Locations”, and “Keyword” tabs on the TAMI website. Also, encourage the use of their book and reliable sources like the TSHA’s Handbook of Texas, https://tshaonline.org/handbook.

Extended Learning

Using a variety of primary and secondary sources (in or outside of class), have students thoroughly investigate the African-American and Mexican-American Civil Rights Movements of the 1960s – 1970s. Have them write a short 1-2 page report on the goals of the Civil Rights Movement analyzing how they were achieved by minority groups. Ask students to think about their own civil rights and civil liberties by evaluating their rights to a public education, voting rights, freedom of speech, religion, and the press. Ask them to explain why civil liberties and civil rights are essential in a democratic society?
